Assembly of First Nations' National Day of Action

on Thursday May 29, 2008.

The National Day of Action is an invitation to all Canadians to join the Assembly of First Nations in putting forth a strong, clear call of action to address social, economic and justice issues and to help strengthen our future together.

Working together, industry, governments and First Nations can develop sustainable communities.

Working together, we can:

- Protect Children and eliminate First Nation child poverty
- Invest in the Future through education, skills, training, and business development
- Respect our Responsibility to one another by recognizing and respecting rights and working as partners
